

STRATEGIC HUMAN RIGHTS LITIGATION:

Understanding and Maximising Impact

Helen Duffy

Preface: Personal Reflection and Acknowledgments

PART ONE

Chapter 1. Introduction

Chapter 2. Human Rights Litigation – Context, Trends, Opportunities & Challenges

2.1 The Growing Field of “Human Rights” Litigation in the World Today

2.2 Available International Mechanisms: Expanding Scope and Outstanding Gaps

2.3 The Impact of Normative Development and Trans-judicial Dialogue

2.4 Challenges and Limitations to Pursuing Human Rights Cases

Chapter 3. Understanding Impact

3.1 Adjusting the Lenses to Capture Impact

3.2 Approaches to Impact and the Meaning of Success: Bursting the Bubble on the Champagne Moment

3.3 Monitoring versus Measuring Impact

3.4 Distinctions: Impact v Goals, Strategic Litigation v Legal Services?

3.5 Levels of Impact

i) Victim or Survivor Focused

ii) Legal

iii) Policy and Practical

iv) Institutional

v) Information, Truth-telling and Historical Record

vi) Social and Cultural

Reframing, Catalysing Debate - and Shaping Perspectives?;

The Humanising Power of the Litigation Narrative

vii) Mobilisation and Empowerment viii) Democracy and Rule of Law

iv) The Dark Side of Litigation: Negative impact

PART TWO

Chapter 4. Case Study - Hadijatou Mani v Niger: Slavery before the ECOWAS Court

Chapter 5. Case Study - Plan de Sanchez v Guatemala: Genocide in Guatemala

Chapter 6. Case Study - Arbitrary Detention and Extraordinary rendition: Litigating the “War on Terror”

Chapter 7. Case Study - Justice for Enforced Disappearance in Argentina

Chapter 8. Case Study – Litigating Palestinian Land Rights

PART THREE

Chapter 9. Litigating Strategically and Meeting the Challenges

9.1 Strategic Planning (and its Limits)

9.2 Identifying Goals and Assessing Risks

9.3 Litigating in Context: Understanding, Naming and Framing the Problem

9.4 Litigating for the Long term: Incremental Change and The Question of Timing

9.5 Strategic Nibbling around the Edges of Injustice v. Judicial Confrontation?

9.6 Litigation Synergies: Movement Building, Legal Advocacy and Reaching Beyond the Court

9.7 Developing the Right Partners, Networks and Coalitions

9.8 Case Selection, Sourcing and Tactics: the Right Case(s) at the Right Time?

9.9 Strategic Use of Fora

9.10 The Victim in the Human Rights Process: Whose case is this Anyway?

9.11 Additional Litigation Roles: Amicus, Experts and 9.12 Observers

9.13 Effecting change in real time: the use of SHRL to stop or prevent violations

9.14 Creative Remedies and Implementation

9.15 The Economy of Human Rights Litigation

Chapter 10. Conclusion: Appreciating (and Demythologising) Strategic Human Rights Litigation